

Since 2010, Unwinnable has been a showcase for offbeat, experimental, poignant and funny stories about games, books, movies and even weird stuff, like an advice column from a space marine 38,000 years in the future. We're devoted to examining the intersection of the culture we love and the lives we lead, bringing you the best in pop-cultural criticism, creative non-fiction and the occasional serialized short once a week in a beautiful digital magazine. Unwinnable is life with culture. This in this war-themed issue, Jeremy Signor examines the long, punishing attrition of day-to-day survival in The Banner Saga; Joe DeMartino looks the last Japanese WWII soldier to surrender (in 1974!), Hiroo Onoda; Edward Smith ponders the political baselessness of first-person shooters in a world overflowing with misinformation; our resident Space Marine Aurelius Ventro teaches readers how to wage war on household pests. No matter what your taste, Unwinnable Weekly has you covered, so make sure to check out our selection of back issues today!
