Septembek 1st, 1822. The Bryans called for Bessy In the morning, to go see the Eosiere, at Suresne. Dined with them: a Frenchman of the party, a Royalist, who told of a girl he walked with last year, at the hal masque, being arrested while with him, for having a tri-colour ribbon on her gown; and (as he since found out) imprisoned six months; no other offence, and it was by chance the poor girl put on the ribbon. Home early. 3rd. Walked in. Dined at the Douglasses .B efore dinner, Bessy and I went to order some of Rossini soperas, she having hoarded (by little occasional thefts from me) six Napoleons, which, with three more from the same source, which she lent me some time ago, are to be devoted to this purpose. Ordered four, and some ballets. All went to the opera in the evening; Otello. Papers thrown from the Quatrim into the parterre, which proved to be a list of the jury at present sitting on the affair of the conspirators at La Eochelle. The Douglasses drove us home. 5th. Went in at two. Accompanied Bessy and Mrs.(Typographical errors above are due to OCR software and dont occur in the book.)About the Publisher Forgotten Books is a publisher of historical writings, such as: Philosophy, Classics, Science, Religion, History, Folklore and Mythology.Forgotten Books Classic Reprint Series utilizes the latest technology to regenerate facsimiles of historically important writings.
